

B2.1

This module is designed for students who have completed all previous levels of the courses or students with equivalent language skills. A speaking and listening vocabulary of 800 words is a prerequisite to starting the course.

Topics covered:

- Reading habit
- Attitude to the world
- Environment protection
- The art of educating children

Learning outcomes

On successful completion of this course, students will be able to: develop a speaking and listening vocabulary of approximately 1,150 words (vocabulary); understand a passage of about 650 words with 80% comprehension (listening); learning how to do a presentation (speaking); read articles of about 900 words with 85% comprehension (reading); understand more Chinese etiquette and customs related to the course content (culture).